Position Profile: History Teacher

About the Position:

Saint Ignatius High School, a highly successful Jesuit college preparatory school for boys in Cleveland, Ohio, is seeking an exceptional history teacher beginning with the 2023-2024 school year. This full-time position will include planning for and teaching five instructional periods, one proctoring duty, and leadership of one student advisory. Experience teaching high school history is a plus, as well as a willingness to participate in our extracurricular and faith formation activities. The candidate should expect to engage in ongoing professional development opportunities. Access to an annual professional development allowance and numerous personal and professional growth opportunities are offered.

The position pays a competitive salary with excellent benefits in an outstanding work environment. Saint Ignatius has been named a "Best Workplace" by the Cleveland Plain Dealer annually since 2011.

Primary Areas of Responsibility:

- Select and plan appropriate teaching and learning activities that are in alignment with the school's expectations for teaching and learning and its mission.
- Collaborate with colleagues within the department and across the school in the areas of curriculum, assessment, and engagement.
- Create and conduct lessons and assessments guided by the Ignatian Pedagogical Paradigm.
- Apply a wide range of formative and summative assessment strategies consistent with course content and objectives.
- Establish and maintain a learning environment with fair and consistent standards that promote positive interpersonal relationships and behavior.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in history, political science, humanities or a related field; Master's degree or higher in a related field preferred
- Current Ohio teaching license in high school social studies or eligibility to obtain
- Experience teaching high school level history courses is preferred.
- Experience in and a desire to participate in extracurricular programs and/or student faith formation is a plus.

The successful candidate will demonstrate:

- A strong commitment to the values of Catholic, Jesuit education.
- Dedication to learning and achievement for all students.
- Enthusiasm for collaboration.

- A willingness to participate in extracurricular activities and student faith formation.
- An exemplary work ethic characterized by high standards of ethics and personal conduct, honesty, integrity, and professionalism

Our Workplace:

Praise, reverence, and service should mark the relationship that exists not only between teachers and students, but among all members of the school community. Ideally, Jesuit schools should be places where people are believed in, honored and cared for; where the natural talents and creative abilities of persons are recognized and celebrated; where individual contributions and accomplishments are appreciated; where everyone is treated fairly and justly; where sacrifice on behalf of the economically poor, the socially deprived, and the educationally disadvantaged is commonplace; where each of us finds the challenge, encouragement, and support we need to reach his or her individual potential for excellence; where we help one another and work together with enthusiasm and generosity, attempting to model concretely in word in action the ideals we uphold for our students and ourselves.

About Saint Ignatius High School:

Saint Ignatius High School, which opened its doors on September 6, 1886, is a Jesuit college-preparatory school. The school enrolls more than 1,400 young men who hail from 92 cities in an 11-county region. Located in close proximity to downtown Cleveland in the vibrant and energetic Ohio City neighborhood, the school occupies 23 acres and includes 19 buildings and three athletic fields. The school has 114 faculty members, 89 percent of whom hold advanced degrees. Fifty-six percent have spent 10 years or more teaching at Saint Ignatius.

Saint Ignatius is also home to The Welsh Academy, a middle school for boys from local families of modest economic means, founded in 2019. The Academy enrolls more than 60 boys in grades 6-8 and occupies Kesicki Hall on campus.

Academically, Saint Ignatius is a regional and state leader in National Merit finalists. To challenge students and prepare them for college, the Saint Ignatius curriculum offers 17 Advanced Placement (AP) and 21 honors subjects. In September 2009, the school was designated a Blue Ribbon school by the US Department of Education.

A Saint Ignatius education prepares students to become competent, concerned, and socially responsible members of their communities. With the motto of Men for Others, there is a prime concern for developing Christian values among all students. Part of the Saint Ignatius student experience includes the promotion of faith in the service of justice.

Employment Philosophy:

Consummate with its mission, the school strives to develop a community that is appropriately representative of the diversity of society.

As an equal opportunity employer, Saint Ignatius High School is committed to a diverse workforce.
